DANDY

Dandy

Standing the test of time

experience a world of re

The open road. The freedom to explore the highways and byways. The matchless sensation of sleeping under the stars.

The pleasures of camping are many - and all are heightened by ownership of a Dandy Folding Camper, the only tourer for the serious-minded camper.

Imagine the comforts of a caravan without the liabilities; a camper that tows like a dream, is ready for use in five minutes and can be folded down and re-erected even when wet, thanks to its unique polyester PVC foam covering system. Which means no more wet canvas to dry out, and no more damp beds. Extra width doors to take wheelchairs free when ordered with trailer.

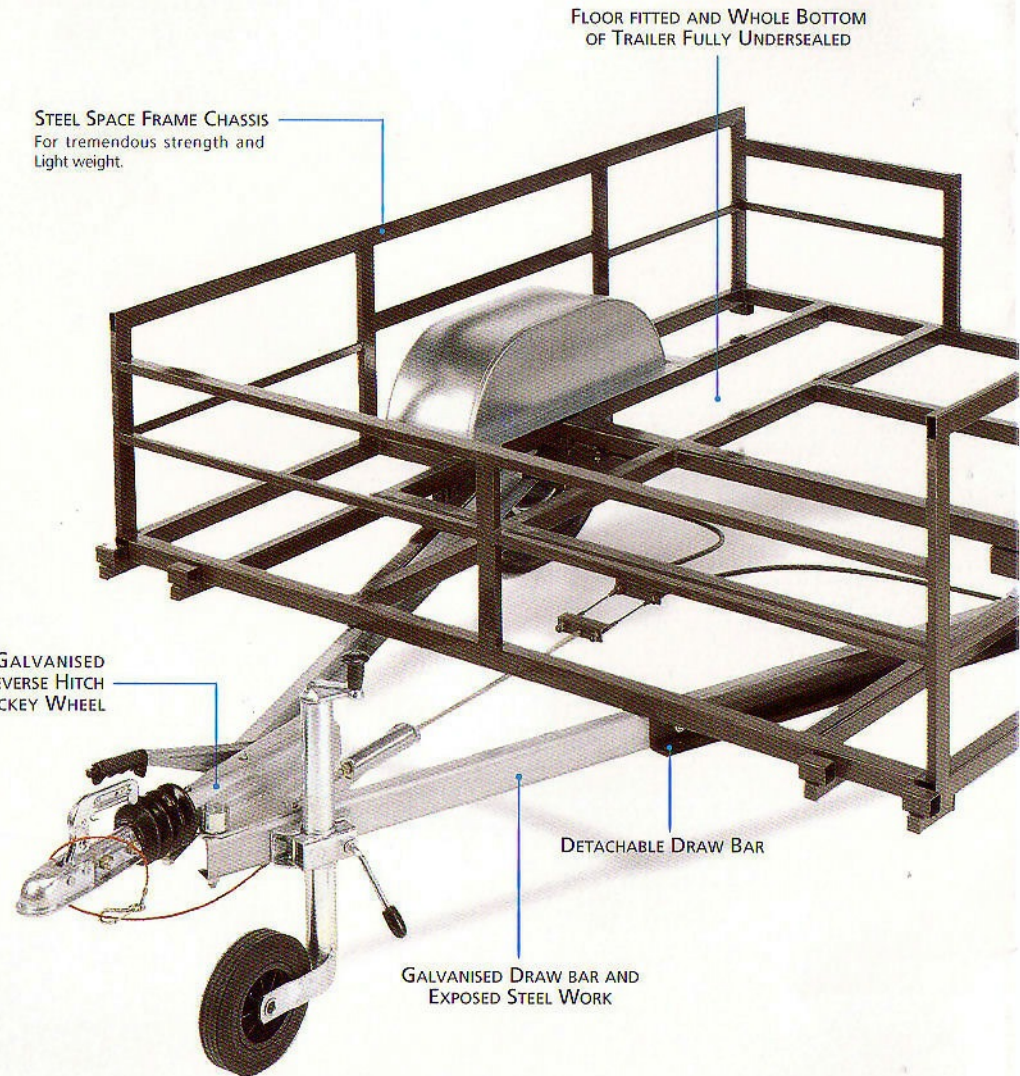

With a Dandy you get a product that, due to its high insulation properties and reflective colour, has proved itself in the cold of the Arctic, the heat of the tropics and just about everywhere else in between.

A range of campers that reflect the emphasis placed by the company on durability and safety, as demonstrated by the space frame steel chassis, safety braking system and extensive use of fire retardant upholstery.

The Dandy combines convenience, comfort and carefree tourability in one unique package. Leaving you and your family the time to relax and enjoy the experience of camping to the full - year after year.

In terms of ease of erection, standard of fittings and accommodation, quality, workmanship and attention to detail, the Dandy has a lot to be proud of.

Every Dandy, from its rugged all-steel chassis up, is carefully designed around one simple guiding principle: that it is capable of being set up in minutes, by one or two people (without any special skills) on any site in winds up to gale force. Such criteria may sound almost impossible to achieve, but any owner will tell you that's exactly what you can do with a Dandy. Just as a Dandy can be used all year round, summer or winter, with comfort.

Furthermore, a Dandy won't leak or rot and, pound for pound, is significantly lighter than any other comparable make - making it easier to tow (not to mention the savings in fuel economy), easier to manoeuvre on site and easier to stow when not in use.

The unique Dandy twin wall polyester PVC foam system beats canvas as a covering hands down, provides better insulation than double glazing and, when the time comes to move on, can be folded down even if wet without adversely affecting the material itself or the contents of the trailer.

Given such outstanding durability - backed by a five year guarantee on the PVC against leaking, fading or mildew - it's little wonder that the secondhand value can actually increase on the original purchase price.

Or that discerning campers who want to experience a world of real freedom and comfort choose Dandy.

The Dart and the Delta are both four berth models, each featuring a two metre long double bed plus an exceptionally comfortable settee that converts into a second two metre long double bed. The two models differ in that the Delta is 25.5cm wider than the Dart making the Delta that bit roomier for the growing family. The Dart has proved to be popular choice amongst ex-motor caravanners.

As with all the other models in the Dandy range the Dart and Delta have an insulated roof, a sink and drainer unit, and heavy duty cut pile carpeting.

Both units have a two burner cooker and grill with flame failure device, fire retardant upholstery,

All the fabrics are colour co-ordinated, there's a table and cutlery tray, and oodles of space.

Two double glazed caravan windows are fitted, one in the lockable caravan door, and one which opens over the kitchen area. Additional light is provided by two heavy gauge plastic windows sited either side of the door.

The spare wheel carrier and gas bottle storage is conveniently located outside.

The Dart and the Delta have unladen weights of 250kgs and 275kgs respectively, making towing with a small car easy and safe.

“The Dart combines a number of features important to us: it is strong but not heavy, needs no pegging, is unaffected by difficult terrain, and is quick and easy to operate.”

A wooden shelf mounted above the kitchen area, holding several jars and containers, likely for spices or condiments.

A small television set placed on a surface next to the kitchen area.

A stack of books on the kitchen counter, including one with the title "WALKWRIGHT" and another with "WALKWRIGHT" on the spine.

A large blue cooler with the "mobil Cooler" and "Electrolux" logos on its side.

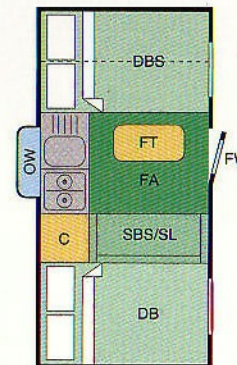

A long, upholstered seating area with a patterned fabric cover, featuring a teddy bear and a small toy boat on it.

Colorful stacking ring toys and a colorful ball on the floor near the kitchen area.

Books and papers scattered on a table in the foreground, including one with a colorful illustration.

Designed to sleep five comfortably, the two double beds and one single, plus a generous 178cms cabin width, combine to make the Discovery a roomy holiday home from home. The single bed and one of the doubles convert to comfortable settees for daytime use.

As with all the models in the Dandy range there is an electric water pump serving the tap fitted into a good size sink and drainer, which is incorporated into a neat storage unit that also houses the two burner cooker and grill with its flame failure device. The unit is complemented by the feature

The feeling of spaciousness is enhanced by the four windows, two heavy gauge plastic and two double glazed; one of which opens above the kitchen area, whilst the other is located in the lockable caravan style door.

And, in keeping with the Dandy philosophy, erecting and dismantling the Discovery is simplicity itself - whether its wet or dry just a few minutes is all you need.

We put the unit up in a howling gale, not too difficult if you turn it into the wind. The next day we packed it down, the gale was still blowing and it was wet, but who cared? We had a Dandy Discovery and the days of watching the skies and dodging the showers were over

The flagship of the Dandy range and what almost amounts to a folding caravan. This extremely ingenious design gives you solid walls, with three opening double glazed caravan windows, plus a fourth in the solid caravan stable door.

As with all the models in all the Dandy range the roof is insulated, but with the Destiny the insulation is extended to the walls as a standard feature.

The very tastefully designed interior, with feature cotton roof lining and privacy curtains, has a kitchen unit which is the envy of campers everywhere, with its four burner hob and grill incorporating a comprehensive flame failure device. The three way fridge has a large capacity and is still easily accessible even when the Destiny is folded down.

The Destiny has the distinction of having four settees, ensuring great comfort in a vast living area. There's no shortage of storage either - the wardrobe, with drawers beneath, seat lockers and cupboards see to that.

Two interior lights are fitted to the solid walls and are wired into the integral 12 volt circuit.

With its top of the range specification the Destiny sets the standards for quality, comfort and value.

The Destiny can be made at 191cm to go into a standard garage space if required.

It has stood the test of time too, and we could hardly believe that, when we traded it back in at Dandy for a smaller, luxury two berth Designer, we actually got the same price we paid for it ten years ago! We thought that was excellent value for money.

THE DANDY WELDED PVC POLYESTER TWIN PANEL COVERING SYSTEM.

Many years of experience with Dandy Tourers in climates as harsh and extreme as the Arctic Circle and the African deserts has served to demonstrate the remarkable qualities of our roof covering system.

Using our own specialised production machinery, insulation foam is sandwiched between two sheets of polyester fabric impregnated with PVC, which is then welded at the edges in a process that is unique to Dandy. The resulting material minimises condensation and will not shrink or stretch, or deteriorate if left wet. It is rotproof, waterproof, insect repellent, and flame retardant to BS5438 and this is guaranteed for five years. The only maintenance required is an occasional wash or wipe down. It's the optimum covering system for the folding camper.

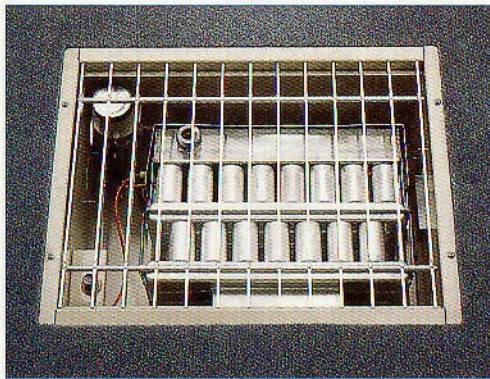

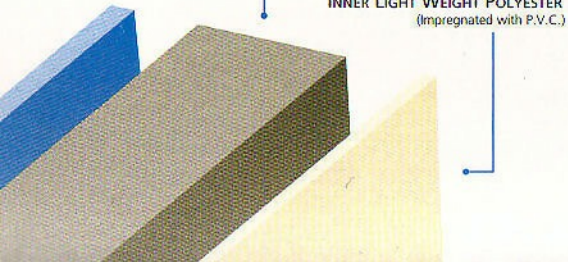

All Dandy Tourers can be 'winterised' for comfortable cold weather use by taking advantage of the remarkable insulation properties of the Dandy twin panel polyester covering system.

This additional specification involves extending the insulation to the side wall panels (a standard feature on the Destiny), and siting a 6800 BTU externally flued gas heater under a steel grille set in the floor. The warmth is guaranteed!

SUN CANOPY
Quick to erect and also very useful in bad weather as it keeps the doorway dry. Popular with people who tour a lot.

AWNING
Quick and easy to erect. Front panel is removable as shown. Unique P.V.C. Covering (not canvas) ensures a long life with no problems of drying out.

UNDERBED SKIRT
Providing a large area under the bed for extra storage. Easy to fit using press studs.

HIGH SECURITY TOWING HITCH
Specially designed to stop the thief in his tracks and also complies with Anti theft Insurance requirements.

The contents of this brochure are as accurate as possible at the time of going to press. We reserve the right to alter specifications, price and model ranges as conditions demand. Some items that appear in the photographs are not supplied as standard but are available as optional accessories.

OPTIONAL ACCESSORIES FOR THE DANDY MODEL RANGES.

In addition to the many items included as standard with the Dandy, a range of options and accessories are also available.

These include sun canopy, awning, skirt, heater, security towing hitch and bicycle/boat carrier, to name but a few.

A full list of the optional accessories is included with the specifications for each model on the relevant pages within this brochure.
