*Trailer Tents &
Folding Campers*

Conway An Introduction

Bonjour Mon Ami

Well! Dad wasn't joking when he promised us a new Conway folding camper if I passed all of my exams (I think he would have bought one anyway). So here we are in France. Each morning we watch the mist rising over the Riviera, whilst enjoying fresh croissants and a steaming mug of coffee. Last Tuesday we camped next to another English family that owned a Conway trailer tent. They have been to Europe 5 times with theirs! I don't think mum needed me to translate when a Frenchman said that both holiday homes were "tres magnifique".

Folding Campers

We are proud to present our range of folding campers; the ultimate in terms of quality and reliability.

The advantages of a folding camper are that they have well designed living areas with comfortable seating and well equipped kitchens, mostly with built in fridges. As pegs are not required the units are extremely quick and simple to erect.

Conway folding campers offer the luxury of a caravan without the associated disadvantages of towing and storage.

- Roof Linings
- Underbed Storage
- Reinforced Mud Flap
- High Mud Wall
- Roll up Front Panel
- Roll up Side Panel
- Stable Door

- Can be towed by the smallest of cars

Our entire model being a four berth unit is ideal for the smaller family or retired couple. Benefitting from a washable pvc roof and the front extension being permanently attached to the cabin canvas, which makes it quick and easy to erect.

You can decide between a 'DL' model with the traditional Conway kitchen or an 'L' model without (you may want to use your existing camping cooker).

The Clipper has the benefit of removable mattress covers which are easily cleaned.

It has roll-up front and side walls where you can fit optional sun canopies if desired.

All in all, an economical tent with off-the-ground beds which is easy to use and can be towed by the smallest of cars.

Phoenix

* The unit is not supplied with a kitchen (existing campers may wish to use their own).

This is a brand new addition to the Conway line-up for 1997. A four berth tent utilising a new concept whereby sleeping 'transversely' with your feet to the trailer aisle eliminates the need to climb over fellow campers to get out of bed.

This unit has a modified cabin pole arrangement making it quicker and easier to erect. There is a lot more headroom in the trailer cabin itself, and the awning is 5 metres wide with a depth of 2.5 metres. These dimensions combined with the generously sized windows gives an impression of space and light in the 'living area'.

Because of the design of the cabin the trailer is actually only 1500 mm (5feet) square which makes it extremely easy to tow and weighs only 200 Kg.

Trailer Tents

This unit incorporates the traditional Conway layout using the world famous Conway kitchen, renowned for quality and reliability, which attaches to the rear of the trailer whilst in transit. This means you can stop for lunch mid journey and have a cup of tea by simply rolling back the trailer cover and turning your gas supply on.

The canvas colour combinations were specifically designed to be light, modern and airy, giving an impression of holiday sunshine within, no matter what the weather is like outside.

The Cardale can be either 4, 6 or 8 berth (using the underbed compartments) and has the capability to extend the living area using an optional 1 metre extension which simultaneously provides an internal wardrobe/toilet compartment.

Should you wish to increase your living area even further you can zip in an optional 1 metre extension which, as you can see, gives a further internal compartment.

The Coniston also comes complete with the traditional Conway kitchen and has fully removable seat and mattress covers which are cleanable. There is ample storage space in the lockers under the seats, and the aisle of the trailer itself when in transit. This model also has roll up front and side walls and the sun canopy is available with or without optional side walls.

The kitchen has a built in fridge, which can be powered by mains, 12 volts or even gas, a double burner with grill and a stainless steel sink with drainer. Conway's attention to detail even extends to an on/off tap at the end of the faucet to prevent annoying drips.

The roof over the galley area is made from wipeable pvc and along with side splash guards there are washable tent ties on both side walls of the kitchen extension.

The unit is pre-wired for 12v. An optional awning or sun canopy completes the package.

Folding Campers

Cruiser

Features

A top quality model with a patented 'Connaumatic' opening mechanism which means that simply sliding the beds out from the body results in the unit erecting itself (like a pop-up storybook). There is no heavy lifting involved and the canvas remains permanently attached to the body. The Cruiser now has streamlined front and rear mouldings in tough G.R.P. (designed to hold the larger popular 7Kg gas bottles). Pictured here are the optional awning and sun canopy.
