Congratulations! You've turned to the leader in folding campers

Pennine Leisure has built a reputation on being first. First in good design. First in dependable quality. First in providing you, a person who seeks "something better" in camping, with the best that money can buy.

Examine the camper layouts. Check the new features. Make comparisons. It won't be many minutes before you realise that Pennine has come up with the answers that you may have been seeking for too long.

This is no overnight miracle. It has taken 25 years of research, of making a good product, then making it even better. Little wonder that in those 25 years we have become recognised as the people who have more to offer than other folding camper specialists, not just in Britain but in Europe!

As you turn the pages of this new brochure you'll quickly discover that Pennine has more ideas, and packs more into the space available, than you would think possible.

How do we do it?

We recognise that people are different; that the needs of a mobile couple may be very different from those of a growing family or group of friends. So we provide variety, in five versatile and superbly designed models: an affordable camper to meet your needs exactly.

Leisure time is precious. Make more of it, starting here, with an investment that you will never regret. Sovereign 8-9
